Corbett Praises the Fighter, Wi Knocked Out Sharkey. BY JAMES J. CORBETT.

New York, July 30.-It is not often that fighter gains prestige and prominence rapidly as did Gus Ruhlin when he knocks out Tom Sharkey. It was not the victory alone that placed the Ohloan in the front rank of the heavy-weight division, but the decisive manner in which he put the Sailor Rublin is a natural fighter, and with good judgment he will be a hard man to beat. He has all the essential qualities that go to make up the fighter. He has that building instinct that gives him courage and stamps him as one of the gamest men in the ring to-day. This was demonstrated when he fought Peter Maher twenty-five rounds about a year ago. Although battered up and bruised from body to head, he fought on gamely, and his opponent, acknowledged to be the hardest puncher among the heavies, was unable to put him out.

Rublin has always been more or less successful, but it needed such a victory as that he won over Sharkey to give him the necessary confidence. I have sparred with Rublin repeatedly, and he is one of the fastest heavy men that I have ever donned the gloves with. He is shifty on his feet and has a left hand that never falls to find an opening.

opening.

His style of fighting is particularly his own. He has a good punch that can do the trick any time it lands. In delivering a blow he generally carries his body forward. This idea is a good one, as it gives the blow steam and considerable weight.

Anthony was made chairman of the committee to secure boxers for the night carnival. Secretary Frank Fowler of the Queen City Jocksy Club promised the full receipts of the Newport track on Weldon Day, Many committees were appointed and letters read. Among those here to-day to see the committee was Han B. Johnson of Chicago, president of the American Baseball League.

SWEENEY BEAT MALONEY.

Latter Went Down Six Times in Fourth Round and Gave Up. New York, July 30.-Patsy Sweeney Manchester won from Jim Maioney of Ireland in the fourth round of a fierce fight at the Sampson Athletic Club, Brooklyn, tonight.

The fight was fast from the start. Although Maloney landed many hard punches, Sweeney proved too much for him.

In the fourth round Sweeney dropped Maloney six times with right-handers on the jaw. Maloney's seconds, seeing their man was beaten, threw up the sponge.

REALLY MATCHED THIS TIME. McCoy and Corbett Scheduled to Go

Twenty-Five Rounds. New York, July 30 .- James J. Corbett and Charles (Kid) McCoy have been matched to fight twenty-five rounds before the Twen-tleth Century Club in Madison Square tieth Century Club in Madison Square Garden in the last week of August. This announcement was made from the sarden arena to-night, just before the McFadden-O'Brien bout, and it occasioned an unusual amount of interest.

Corbett and McCoy have been talking at each other for a long time. A match between them was announced several weeks ago, but Corbett promptly denied it. Then there was quiet, and finally they met a few nights ago in Corbett's saloon, where a wordy combat enlivened matter for a time, ending in the ejectment of the Kid.

McCoy, suffering from the afront, and not being, as he himself put it, "a barroom brawier," let himself out with the following telegram, which reached Corbett in the course of time:

"I have posted $2,500 with Al Smith to fight you at your own terms before September 1. If you are not a coward cover it. The former heavy-weight champion was enraged and declared that although he had barred all men but Jeffries, he would fight McCoy before the Twentleth Century Club, provided there was money enough in the proposition the club might submit. Evidently the club has met Mr. Corbett's wishes in a satisfactory way, because of the announcement which the manager was able to make to-night. Corbett asked for 69 per cent of the gate receipts. CONVENTION MEETS AGAIN. lixteenth Illinois District Democrats

Jacksonville, Ill., July 30.—All the candidates for honors in the Sixteenth District

Democratic Convention are here, and each has established headquarters at the Pacific Hotel. The convention will probably convene at 2 o'clock to-morrow afternoon, and the indications are that the first ballot will show each county voting for her favorite son, as was true when the convention adjourned a few weeks since.

It is as yet impossible to even make a good guess on the result, for each candidate talks confidently and says he has reason to hope for the best. However, it is probable that the struggle will not be very long, as the delegates understand that the break must come some time. Democratic managers expect to be kept fairly busy from now until election, warning the people against it.

Leaders connected with the Democratic Congressional Committee have been prompt to denounce the paragraph going the rounds of the Republican press that Webster Davis, former Assistant Secretary of the Interior, who left his party because he could not stand for the administration's pro-English and anit-Beer policy, is not to be allowed to go on the stump by the Bryan managers.

The animus of this roortsack, as pointed out by the Democratic leaders, is the fear excited among the Republican managers over the defection in their ranks, and the hope that by minimizing the value the Democratic fold may be stopped.

"If anything is necessary to show how scared the Republican managers are over the increasing list of the McKinley men of 1885 who will vote and work for Bryan this year," said Secretary James Kerr of the Democratic Congressional Committee to-day, "there is the proof of it in this atory about Webster Davis.

"There is not a word of truth in the statement that has recently been printed that the Democratic managers do not want Mr. Davis to take the stump for Bryan and will not allow him to speak under the ausgices of the party."

Heretofere, it is pointed out, the Republican managers have controlled the old soldier vote so completely that they have come to regard them in about the same way as they do the solid negro vote of the South. The veterans resent this. The turning down of Cival War veterans of experience in the Spanish-American War, when the Commissary and Quartermaster departments were filled with knownetental is given as one reason for the graried change in sentiment among the Grand Army men.

"PROGRESSIVE POPULISTS."

Name W. O. Atkeson for Congress in the Sixth.

The so-called "Progressive Populist party" has nominated one candidate for Congress in Missouri. This lonely individual is W. O. in Missouri. This ionely individual is W. O. Atkeson of Butler. He will contest the election of D. A DeArmond in the Sixth District along with S. W. Jurden, who has been nominated by the Republicans.
Atkeson is from West Virginia, and while there was a Democrat. He retained his Democracy until he settled in Bates County several years ago. Then Atkeson suddenly joined the Populists. His opponents declars that it was because the Democrated did not nominate him for the office of Prosecuting Attorney. Since that time he has been check by jowl with the opponents of Democracy, and on several occasions has materially assisted them by withdrawing himself or some of his colleagues from the Populist ticket in the Interest of the Republicans.

Most of the Populists of Bates County have entered the ranks of Democracy in an effort to carry out the principles which they believed were to their interest. Not so with Atkesen. He took renewed hope and, whittling off his pencil, wrote lengthy editorials in his newspaper.

Atkesen is being denounced by many of his party workers, and late reports from the Sixth District indicate that the situation is rapidly becoming so tropical for him that there is a likelihood of his seeking an early withdrawal.

STRAIGHT DEMOCRATIC TICKET. Decision of County Committee to Nominate Candidate for Judge At a special meeting of the St. Louis County Democratic Central Committee at Clayton yesterday it was decided to nominate straight Democratic ticket. In the last straight Democratic ticket. In the last campaign a fusion was effected with the independent Republicans. The latter organization now exists in name only, but it is thought that a large number of the independents will vote the Democratic ticket, anyway.

September 8 was set as the date for holding the primaries to elect delegates to the convention in Clayton, on September 15, when candidates for county offices will be named.

The committee decided to start a movement to resurrect the Judicial Committee of the Thirteenth Circuit. On account of the personal popularity of the late Judge Hirzel the committee did not meet in 1898 to get any candidate to oppose him, feeding that it would be a loss of time and money. Now that Judge John W. Booth is the incumbent of the judicial chair, the committee feels that the Democrats have an excellent chance. Secretary Harris was instructed to open a correspondence immediately with the Democratic committee officials in Gasconade, Franklin and Osage counties to get them to select delegates to a convention, conade, Franklin and Osage counties to get them to select delegates to a convention, the date of which will be fixed later. are at loggerheads over the appointment of a fireman for the Courthouse at Clayton. For a long time it has been the custom to give this particular job to a negro. For awhite everything worked smoothly, but now the negroes are quarrelling among themselves over the job, hence the troubles of the three Judges of the court, who have the appointive power.

The trouble culminated like a verbal hombardment yesterday, when the question of continuing Emmanuel Beiger, the incumbent, in office until January I, 1991, came up. The Judges wrangled for nearly an hour, when a vote was taken, showing Presiding Judge Wilson against Beiger and Associate Justices Horneker and Bryaster for him. Beiger was appointed hast winter, displacing Isob Taylor, because it was thought ne could control the negro vote around Creve Coeur. Bob is somewhat of a power himself in county negro politics and brought sufficient influence to hear to have Beiger outsted last April and himself responded. Then the friends of Beiger protested so vigorously that at the next meeting the Judges ruled that Beiger should continue in office until August 1. Yesterday the matter came up again, and Beiger was given another lease of official life.

Judge Wilson was indignant after the meeting and characterized the action of his associates as childish. On the other hand the two Associate Justices say that Beiger was originally a protege of Judge Wilson's and that they do not feel dispessed to vote to get rid of him just because Judge Wilson thinks he should go.

This is not the only trouble besetting the Republican managers in the county candidates are causing considerable worry, at least that part of it relating to the raising of the necessary funds to conduct the election. The committee, at a meeting held a month ago, notified each candidate that his assessment was due. The candidates have not contributed with the alacrity expected, and now John A. Meyers, secretary of the Central Committee, is out with an uitlenstum, that unless they come forward before next Monday

Senator Fairbanks will take an active part in the speaking campaign and will open his work in Maine, August 25. He said this evening that the McKinley administration would be the most conspicuous feature of the campaign. The people would be asked to upheld and approve the accomplishments of the administration and the manner in which the important questions of the last three years had been met and disposed of. He said the prosperity of the country is most agreeable to the people and he did not believe they would jeopardize it by voting for a change. He said that imperialism was a mere pretended issue and that the people will not seriously consider it, and that there is no Issue on trusts, for no party upholds trusts.

He spoke in the highest terms of the President's treatment of the Chinese question and said its solution would be a long and tedious proceeding, because of the varied interests. He would not venture an opinion as to the Ministers nor as to the possibilities of an extra session of Congress.

He walked out into the street during the afternoon and had a little chat with a force of laborers who are grading and paving the street near his house. Pettro Cueno of Sandusky was one of the callers of the day. He urged the President to accept an invitation to a corner-stone laying in Upper Sandusky, tendered some time ago. The committee, if the President will agree, will so arrange the programme that the engagement can be filled by an hour's stop on the way to the G. A. R. encampment at Chicago next month.

Commercial Travelers Have Suffered The statement made by a person at Hiawatha, Kas., that the formation of the many trusts had not thrown 5,000 traveling many trusts had not thrown 5,000 traveling men out of work is refuted by Secretary Pitts of the National Committee of Commercial Travelerers. He says:

"That only goes to show that some of the traveling men stand in need of a campaign of education for their own protection, as well as some other people. This Kansasman's stock of misinformation seems to be exceeded only by his partisanship. To show that he cannot have made such a statement from any reliable information, it is a fact that one combination alone—the Tobacco Trust—has directly and indirectly put more than 5,000 salesmen out of business and that is only one out 500 trusts, which, for the most part, have been formed since 1896, and 20 per cent of them dispensed with the services of the majority of the men they formerly employed.

"While this man (if he is a traveling man) may feel secure in the belief that his particular firm could not be induced to go into a trust, it is only necessary to remind him that others who have felt the same security have seen their firms forced into a trust, with the inevitable result of dispensing largely with their traveling salesmen." men out of work is refuted by Secretary

This was the sentiment with which Paul Goepel, first vice president of the German-American McKinley and Roosevelt League, opened campaign hendquarters at Union Square yesterday. The league was organized by Arthur Von Briesen, a close friend of Governor Roosevelt, who selected him to combat Democratic aggressiveness in this field of the canvass.

Mr. Geopel explained that it was Carl Scaurz's hostile attitude toward President McKinley that made the league's labor so hard. "Mr. Schurz is a great man and commanding figure in this country," said he. "Many Germans hesitate to follow any other leadership. It is that hesitancy that we must overcome.

"We believe," said Mr. Goepel more hopefully, "that Mr. Schurz's influence is now strained to the breaking point. Our argument is that McKinley's policy is not Imperialism or militarism."

The Republican managers have directed their first work to trying to overcome the disaffection that they have perceived among the Germans. The German vote has been 80 per cent Republican. surprises of the year is in the announcement made to-day by ex-Lieutenant Governor A. J. Felt, chairman of the Nemaha Republican Committee, of his purpose to support Bryan, Breidenthal and the Fusionists in the Kansas campaign.

Mr. Felt has been long a devoted Republican; he served the State as the presiding officer of the Senate and has always been one of the faithful supporters and workers for the success of the State Republican ticket.

In a letter to Mr. Breidenthal Governor Felt says:

"Accept my sincere and hearty congratulations upon your nomination. You and Judge Martin have proven that in Kansas at least 'the office seeks the man.' I have this day tendered my resignation as chairman of the Republican County Central Committee of Nemaha County because I am a Republican still believing in American independence, as when I voted for Lincoln, Grant. Hayes, Blaine and Harrison, and because in this campaign my duty as a citizen leads me to cast my ballot for Americans who still believe that the legend upon the dellar, 'In God We Trust,' is a more noble ideal than the new Mark Hanna version, 'In the Trusts We Find Our Gods."

Judge George W. Lubke will not become a candidate for the congressional nomination in the Eleventh District. His name has been mentioned, but he declares that there are plenty of ambitious young men in the district, any one of whom he would prefer to see nominated. He says he has not the time to devote to a canvass if he desired, and for this reason will not enter the campaign for the nomination.

The list of probable candidates is a long one. There seems to be a well-founded belief that there will be a turn-over in the Eleventh District this year, politically speaking, and the contest may become interesting within a few days.

He does not even make it a rule to object to the removal of a coat.
